

7th Grade Summer Reading

Literature Summer Reading Assignment

Incoming 7th graders will have the option to read one of the following:

Woods Runner by Gary Paulsen

The Giver by Lois Lowry

After reading the book, students will design a book jacket using a paper or poster folded in half to form four panels.

The front of the cover of the book jacket should include the title, author, and creative illustration of a scene from the book.

The back cover of the book jacket should list five detailed sentences about the book that are attention grabbers. This will make others interested in the book.

On the left, inside flap of the book jacket, explain one part of the story. Briefly summarize that part, explain why you picked that part, and explain why it is meaningful to the story. This must be at least 5 sentences.

On the right, inside flap of the book jacket, express your thoughts on the book. For example, you could explain what you liked, what you disliked, or what you would change to make the story more interesting. This must be at least 5 sentences.

This work will be collected during the first few weeks of school. A specific date will be set once class begins.
